Plea to save 'Stoke

Fans of Basingstoke Football Club gathered outside the council offices last week to call for action to save their club ground. Full story on page 3

Women workers paid quarter less than men

By Adam Flinn

WOMEN in Basingstoke and Deane in full-time work are earning more than 25 per cent less than men, figures from the Office of National Statistics have revealed.

The situation was highlighted by Labour councillor Chloe Ashfield as she put forward a motion at last Thursday's borough council meeting, calling for more efforts to reduce the gender pay gap.

Basingstoke and Deane compares poorly with neighbouring areas. Women in Winchester earn £2.44 more per hour, while those in West Berkshire, Test Valley and Reading are getting more than £1 extra.

It means Basingstoke and Deane ranks in the bottom four per cent for gender wage disparity in the UK.

Cllr Ashfield said: "We have seen encouraging changes nationally, including flexible parental leave and increasing free childcare and the national living wage.

"But real change requires radical moves. For an area with such dire figures as Basingstoke and Deane, we need the council and our major employers to acknowledge there is a great deal more work to be done.

"This motion urges the council to undertake further analysis so we can identify the drivers for the extraordinarily high gap in the borough.

"Change won't happen by accident – the council and its partners must lead by example and make this a thriving and prosperous borough for everybody."

National statistics show that men in full-time work earn on average 9.4 per cent than women. Basingstoke and Deane's pay gap is almost three times higher, at 25.2 per cent.

While the gap nationwide and in south east England is falling, last year the average female hourly wage fell by four per cent, while the male wage rose by 1.5 per cent.

Seconding the motion, Cllr Angie Freeman said: "As a country, we've slipped down the world rankings from being the ninth most gender equal country in 2006 to the 20th now, and Basingstoke is currently one of the worst in the UK.

Council drives deal that keeps 700 AA jobs here

By Matthew Brown

ABOUT 700 local jobs have been secured after a multi-million pound deal was struck to keep the AA in Basingstoke for decades to come.

In what has been described as "major vote of confidence" in the town, the blue-chip motoring organisation is set to leave its current headquarters in Fannum House.

It will move to brand new state-of-the-art offices at Basing View.

It comes after the borough council negotiated a deal with property developer Abstract Securities to build a 60,535 square foot office building.

The decision will be ratified by the cabinet in a meeting next Tuesday.

Hailing the development, John Izett, Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council's cabinet member for property and development, said: "This deal would be a major vote of confidence in Basingstoke."

"The AA has been synonymous with Basingstoke for over 40 years and thanks to this deal the council will be able to grant the company's wish to remain one of the town's most notable, good employers."

"This deal will safeguard high quality jobs and bring significant extra investment into Basing View, vindicating our decision to invest in preparing the new headquarters site for development."

Under the terms of the deal, the decision being taken by the cabinet would release the AA from its current lease on Fannum House in return for a compensation payment on the condition the company stays in Basing View.

This would free up Fannum House for further new development.

Fannum House, which opened in 1973 and houses around 700 staff, is no longer suitable as an office building in the 21st century.

The AA had looked at other locations but settled on Basingstoke because of the availability of the new offices, as well as excellent transport connections, proximity to London and access to a skilled workforce.

Basing View is undergoing a significant regeneration project and the borough council has ambitions for it to become a business location of regional importance.

It is hoped the office building will be completed in 2018.

Thug rode away on victim's bike after attack

A MAN was assaulted while riding a bike which was then stolen in Basingstoke.

The 36-year-old was cycling along a footpath next to the Westside Community Centre in Paddock Road, South Ham, at around 1am on Tuesday, March 28, when a male approached him. The victim was punched and knocked off his bike, then threatened before the thug rode off.

Police have described the attacker as white, aged early to mid 20s, around 5ft 8ins tall, of slim build and having short, dark brown hair.

He was wearing dark blue trousers and a dark jumper.

PC Nigel Cole, of Basingstoke CID, said: "We would like to hear from anyone who saw what happened or has any information about this robbery or anyone who has been offered a blue/silver Giant-style mountain bike recently."

Anyone with information should call PC Cole at Basingstoke CID on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Cracking effort

SHERFIELD-ON-LODDON: Generous parents of students at Sherfield School have donated 275 chocolate eggs to child services in Basingstoke.

Friends of Sherfield (FOS) invited parents to donate the eggs, which were tracked by pupils on an 'egg-o-meter'.

"We're really pleased to be able to support Basingstoke child services in this way" said chairman of FOS Rachel Harvey Meyer.

Golf decision due

SHERFIELD-ON-LODDON: Plans for a new adventure golf course next to DH Watergardens looked set to be approved last night.

Council officers had recommended the go-ahead for the 18-hole course to be built inside a retail unit in Wildmoor Lane.

Concerns had been raised beforehand about the length of the opening hours, increased traffic and drainage.

The council received seven objections.

New health chief

HAMPSHIRE: Alex Whitfield has taken over as chief executive of Hampshire Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust.

Ms Whitfield has spent the last five years as chief operating officer at Solent NHS Trust and before that had worked at ExxonMobil's Fawley Oil Refinery and North Hampshire Hospital.

"I am passionate about patient care and committed to taking forward the strong values held by Hampshire Hospitals" she said.

'Save our football ground'

By Jack Asbery

SUPPORTERS of Basingstoke Town Football Club have protested outside the borough council's offices in a bid to save their ground.

Club chairman Rafi Razzak is leaving the Camrose at the end of the season and wants to sell for redevelopment.

The club has been looking for a new stadium, but with recent options falling through it has agreed a ground-share with Farnborough - 19 miles away - for next season.

But the decision has been met with a negative reaction from fans and a protest was called to seek the council's help in saving the club from relocation.

Protest organiser Simon Hood said: "We've got about 25 fans who have joined us in the protest against Rafi Razzak - the owner of Basingstoke Football club - moving the club to Farnborough 19 miles away."

"Obviously it doesn't just affect the fans that come on a weekly basis. It also affects the Dragons club, the youngsters that play on a Saturday morning, and the Strikers' disability team who will have nowhere to go any more. It is really impacting the community."

"The train (to Farnborough) costs £15 and it is half an hour away. Or you have to drive for

Fans make their point outside the council offices last Thursday

45 minutes and get stuck on the motorway - then pay an entry fee."

Martin French, chairman of the Basingstoke supporters association, said: "We need the councillors to now stand up for Basingstoke Football club."

"We need them to try and stop Mr Razzak from selling the Camrose estate because we need football in this town."

"We can't go to Farnborough, which is the proposed plan at the moment."

"The council owns 29 per cent of the ground and Mr Razzak owns the other 71 per cent."

"Over the years him and the council have not got on very well and now he's had enough. He wants to leave and he wants his money back."

"Because we're in debt to him by quite a bit of money that leaves us with no chance of getting the club back without council support."

Last year the club's plans to build a new stadium in Eastrop were rejected by the council, and it has been critical of the authority for not helping more to find it a new home.

The club released a statement on Tuesday afternoon saying it still intended to run the academy and youth coaching at the Camrose into next season - the only restriction being that the club cannot play football at the site.

Head of marketing Will Wilkinson said: "Every member of the interim management group (IMG) recognises that this is an extremely difficult time for the club."

"Our fans, players and the parents of children utilising the Camrose facilities are all seeking reassurances, so we hope that this brief statement helps to allay any fears the community may have."

"For the IMG, it is business as usual and we are 100 per cent focused on moving through this challenging period and becoming a stronger, united and community-orientated club going forward."

• Keep Football in Basingstoke (KFIB) has launched a petition online on change.org, to be delivered to Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council. Visit change.org and search for 'Keep Football in Basingstoke'.

News Bites

Path reopens

BASINGSTOKE: The footpath along Ringway East and above Gresley Road has reopened after a six-week project to replace a water pipe by South East Water.

Project manager Jeremy Dufour said: "It is unacceptable to us that a number of homes in Basingstoke go without water when this pipe bursts, which is why we have upgraded this section."

Meningitis plea

HAMPSHIRE: Parents are being urged to make sure their teenage children get the meningitis jab.

NHS England and Public Health England are asking parents of unvaccinated 17 and 18-year-olds to get them immunised.

Consultant Clare Simpson said: "The vaccine not only protects those who are vaccinated, but helps to control the spread of the disease in the wider population."

Easter fun day

POPLEY: An Easter fun day for visitors to meet and feed animals is being held at Mill Cottage Farm this Saturday.

It is running from midday to 3pm and features an Easter egg hunt and bonnet competition. Go to mcfe.org.uk.

'Women have same housing costs'

Deputy leader Cllr Terri Reid

• From front page

"Reading is significantly better than Basingstoke. Why is that? Women have the same housing costs and living costs, so we need to take this issue seriously."

The motion also asked the council to put forward a strategy to tackle the issue of the growing gap between male and female pay.

Deputy council leader Terri Reid said: "We're all aware of concern around gender inequality and discrepancies in pay, conditions and opportunities. There seem to be figures locally that require further investigation. We need to know the facts for certain, which drill into the contexts and causes."

"We need to ensure that everyone has opportunity and everyone is able to give their very best with the support they need to contribute to a better borough here in Basingstoke and a better society nationally."

"If we work together we can make this a better world and a better Basingstoke for everyone."

Edgar and Constance Collier at home and, inset, on their wedding day

'I married pool hero who saved my life'

By Jack Asbery

A COUPLE who met when he rescued her from a swimming pool celebrate their platinum wedding anniversary today.

Constance Collier, 90, and Edgar Collier, 92, got married 70 years ago.

The couple were hitched at St Olave's Church in Rotherhithe, London, in 1947 after meeting during the Second World War.

Constance, who could not swim, jumped in at the deep end of a swimming pool and Edgar rescued her.

"I was 15 and he was 16 and a half, and we met occasionally once a week or something. As soon as he was 18 he was called up into the Second World War," said Constance.

"We said goodbye and he went to do the last three years in the navy. The war finished and we were married."

Constance recalls having to borrow a wedding dress from someone due to the scarcity of materials after the war.

She even made her own flowers, including the ones for the bridesmaids.

The couple then spent their honeymoon at Ramsgate at a bed and breakfast.

"On the last day, we had two and sixpence left and we bought a bit of carpet for that. We finished off with a bowl of chips," said Edgar.

The Colliers are still very active and Constance believes the key to keeping independent is in the mind.

She said: "If you start thinking 'poor old me, I can't do this and I can't do that', then that's the way your body goes. Your brain is telling you that and I tell it to shut up! Let's get on with our lives."

Constance has some advice for other couples looking to have a long and happy marriage.

"I think the main thing is a sense of humour – you've got to have a sense of humour. We've always had that."

"Sometimes if something ever happened, I'd make fun of him. But after a little while he'd laugh at it and it worked vice versa."

The couple are planning to celebrate the occasion with a family meal.

Review of councillor imbalances in wards

A BOUNDARY review is to take place in Basingstoke and Deane in the coming year to address the electoral imbalance in some wards.

The intention is to ensure that the ratio of electors to councillors in each ward is roughly the same.

Currently there are nine wards that have at least 10 per cent more or less than the average number of electors.

Each ward should have just under 2,200 residents per councillor, but in the case of Rooksdown it is currently at 3,106 – more than 40 per cent more.

A consultation into the ward boundaries is due to begin in November with final recommendations published in September next year.

Wards with greater than 10 per cent variances: Chineham

– 2,591 residents per councillor (+18.23%); Grove – 2,428 residents (+10.77); Kempshott – 1,913 residents (-12.71); Oakley and North Waltham – 1,837 residents (-16.19); Overton, Laverstoke and Stevenston – 1,959 residents (-10.63); Pamber and Silchester – 1,872 residents (-14.60); Popley East – 2,416 residents (+10.22); Rooksdown – 3,106 residents (+41.73); Sherborne St John – 1,786 residents (-18.50).

Raise cash to help fight bowel cancer

APRIL is bowel cancer awareness month and Pelican Cancer Foundation is urging people of all ages to fundraise.

The charity pays for clinical research into the treatment of 'below the belt' cancers – including bowel – and is appealing to local people to do their bit in the fight.

Cake sales, running marathons and selling some clothes are all ways to raise cash for Pelican.

In the UK, more than 41,000 people are diagnosed with bowel cancer each year, making it the second biggest cancer killer in Britain.

Pelican, which is based at The Ark Centre at Basingstoke and North Hampshire Hospital, is making huge strides forward in research and treatment of the disease and it has invested more than £2.5million since 2003 thanks to public support.

The charity has trained 13,000 clinicians on courses and workshops that cover the latest advances in cancer treatment, technology and surgical techniques.

Pelican chief executive Sarah Crane said: "It is vitally important that men and women alike are aware of the symptoms of bowel cancer and get them checked out by their GP."

"Often it will be nothing serious, but if it is cancer, the earlier it is diagnosed the quicker it can be treated and the greater the chance of survival."

Cancer charity bike ride launch rakes in the cash

THE Ark Cancer Centre Charity had a fabulous fundraising boost thanks to a charity bike ride party that pulled in the pounds.

The Tea Bar in Basingstoke town centre helped launch the Ark to Arc bike ride, which is taking place between July 12 and 16.

The ride takes in the 255 miles from the Ark Conference Centre to the Arc de Triomphe in Paris.

En route the riders will call in at Alencon, one of Basingstoke's twin towns.

The launch evening also had an auction and a raffle that between them raised over £4,000.

Star auction prizes included a bike donated by Winklebury Cycles, which attracted a £600 bid, an iPad from the Champion Group and a signed mini rugby ball – signed by England World Cup winner Jason Robinson – donated by Vitality.

Bentley Berkshire put a chauffeur-drive trip in a Bentley up for grabs and ended up giving two away to successful bidders – raising a total of £1,500.

It will be at the Viabes Craft Centre in Harrow Way on Saturday and Sunday between 10am and 4.30pm.

Police's £10m new 'front office' open for public to report crime

By Matthew Brown

THE public can now make enquiries and report crime at the new multi-million pound Basingstoke Police Investigation Centre (PIC).

The force's 'front office' has moved from the London Road police station to the £10million facility in Jays Close on the Viabes Business Park.

Chief inspector Matt Reeves, district commander of Basingstoke and Deane, said: "We know most people who report crime do so by calling 101 or 999.

"But there are some people who would rather come to the police station to speak to someone in person – and that option will be available at the new building."

Serving the northern area of Hampshire, the brand-new centre provides modern facilities and a central investigation function.

It forms part of the strategy of Hampshire police and crime commissioner Simon Hayes to meet future policing objective and is one of three centres across the county.

There are 36 custody cells in the building, which will operate 24 hours a day throughout the week and accommodate 400 staff.

Officers from police stations in Aldershot, Alton, Basingstoke and Whitechurch will relocate to the PIC.

The front office will be staffed by officers who will deal with enquiries including reporting crime, reporting for bail and lost and found property.

Until London Road police station is fully decommissioned, the interim there will remain active and signage will be provided with details of the PIC.

Chief inspector Reeves was quick to reassure the public that London Road station would still have a role to play in policing Basingstoke.

He added: "Our neighbourhood and response and patrol teams will remain in the Parklands building in London Road, making sure the people we serve, their families and their communities are safer."

New school head

SHERFIELD-ON-LODDON: Sherfield School has appointed Nick Fisher as its new headmaster.

Mr Fisher has joined from Truro School in Cornwall, where he spent seven years as deputy headmaster.

He brings a passion for physics and performing arts and will be starting after Easter.

Top man Tim

BASINGSTOKE: Tim Culver, a member of South West Trains' staff based in the video contact centre, has received a company award for his outstanding contribution to customer service.

He leads the team that provides face-to-face information to passengers using the 91 video ticket machines across the network.

Tim was praised for his "cool, calm exterior and a willingness to succeed".

All aboard!

ALTON: It's full steam ahead for the Watercress Line's miniature railway, which is on track to be open for the Easter holidays after maintenance work.

The Mid-Hants Railway will also be hosting Thomas the Tank Engine from April 14 to 23.

Families will be able to travel on the miniature railway with its restored carriages.

New benches so residents can have their day in sun

RESIDENTS at a sheltered housing scheme in Popley can make the most of the upcoming summer weather thanks to a donation of five benches.

Building merchants Build-base donated the traditional wooden seats, which are situated in the gardens at Abbey Court.

As part of an agreed social values budget, Sentinel Housing has a partnership with Build-base that sees them work with the repairs and maintenance team and customer engagement department at the housing association.

Resident Wendy Denton said: "We've waited a long time for these benches and now we've got them they'll make a real difference on sunny summer afternoons."

Night shelter says 'thanks'

By Jack Asbery

MORE than 250 people were recognised with a "thank you" for their efforts running the Night Light winter night shelter.

The celebration marked 10,000 hours of time given to the programme, which was run by the Social Inclusion Partnership from December 2016 to February 2017.

Night Light was created by town centre churches in response to the plight of rough sleepers. The scheme gave 45 people a hot meal, a warm bed for the night and an opportunity to seek support and engage with local agencies.

Donations came from Real Change not Loose Change, a crowd funding site set up by Basingstoke Voluntary Action, and Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council.

Night Light coordinator Liz Howe said: "It was set up to offer shelter and hospitality during the winter months to those people who would have no other option than to sleep on the streets during the coldest time of year."

"There has been a real desire from the churches to do something to help with the increase of homelessness."

"The volunteers' compassion, expressed in very practical action, meant that the Night Light guest experience was excellent, ensuring they were welcomed with dignity and left with a renewed sense of hope for a different way of life."

A celebration was held to mark the 10,000 hours donated by volunteers to run the Night Light shelter

Children dance the day away

CHILDREN at a Basingstoke nursery got into the fundraising spirit for Red Nose Day with an all day dance party to raise money for Comic Relief.

Kiddi Caru Day Nursery in Broadmere Road hosted the boogie-tastic day with some themed music and dance routines for the children to learn.

There was also baking to be done, with staff handing out Red Nose shortbread biscuits to the local community.

Nursery manager Bee Bevis said: "The children love Red Nose Day. It's so much fun and also an opportunity to help people in need both here in the UK and further afield."

It comes as the nursery group was chosen by parents as one of the top 10 large nursery groups in the UK.

Sparrow tops pecking order for second year

By Adam Flinn

HOUSE sparrows were once again the most common bird in Hampshire's gardens following the RSPB's annual survey.

Results from the Big Garden Birdwatch published last Thursday showed that while the number of sparrows seen had fallen from last year, their population has increased two per cent since 2007.

Starlings and wood pigeons were the next most common birds, followed by blackbirds and blue tits.

The Birdwatch ran from January 28 to 30, asking people across the country to count the different birds that visit their garden over a one-hour period.

Daniel Hayhow, a conservation scientist at RSPB, said: "The sight of a robin or blackbird on the garden fence is often one of the first experiences we have with nature."

"So to have over half a million people taking part and counting a bumper eight million birds across one weekend is amazing."

"Using the information from the weekend we'll be able to create a snapshot of how our garden birds are doing."

Sparrows and starlings were also the top two birds seen nationally, with blackbirds in third.

The RSPB also reported an increased number of migrant birds, such as waxwings, redwings and fieldfares.

However in Hampshire it was a tough year for tits, with the number of blue tits and great tits decreasing by 15 and two per cent respectively compared to 2016.

But with increased sightings for 12 of the county's top 20 birds since 2007, RSPB officer Tim Webb said it shows the importance of gardens to our feathery friends.

He said: "Gardens are an increasingly valuable resource for birds. They need food, water and shelter throughout the year and if we all provide these things in our outdoor spaces it will be a huge help to our garden birds, perhaps even playing a role in reversing some declines."

"We're increasingly seeing rural birds in gardens and urban settings. Our theory is that this behaviour change is because they are finding it easier to find food and shelter in gardens."

Watchdog's praise for water firm

SOUTHERN Water has been praised by an industry watchdog after a drop in complaints.

Recent figures revealed by the company to the Consumer Council for Water (CCWater), show a 53 per cent reduction in written complaints between October and December 2016, compared to the same period in 2015.

The watchdog challenged Southern to improve performance after it was named the worst performing water company for written complaints in 2015/16.

Southern Water created a team that contacts customers about to receive a larger bill than usual to offer assistance.

This could be anything from leaks to increased water usage for medical reasons.

Sir Tony Redmond, CCWater's London and south east chairman, said: "We are pleased that Southern Water does appear to be turning the tide and the action it has taken is beginning to make a marked difference."

"The company still has ground to make up on the rest of the industry so the job is not done. We will be watching closely to ensure these improvements continue for the foreseeable future."

Barry Cotton has been busy

Barry cleans up to help country fair

A HAMPSHIRE man has been helping to boost the coffers of the upcoming Hannington Fair by completing a week of housework.

Barry Cotton, a sales advisor for household appliance manufacturer Vorwerk, offered to clean 25 rooms in 25 hours in the Basingstoke area between Tuesday and Saturday last week.

With minimum donations of £10, Barry is hoping his exploits will have raised more than £500 for the country fair.

"Other people raise money by jumping out of aeroplanes or running huge distances," said Barry.

"I thought housework was a safer option and actually hugely beneficial to those who sponsor me."

The fair takes place in Hannington on June 25.

Hospital radio team in a spin after winning gong

By Adam Flinn

THERE were celebrations for Hospital Radio Basingstoke as they scooped a prestigious award.

The station earned a bronze in the 'best promotion' category, and was named in the top five for 'station of the year'.

A gala ceremony was held in Bolton where Basingstoke's station went up against 200 other members of the Hospital Broadcasting Association from around the country.

Programme controller Neil Ogden, who presents 'It started with swap shop' - which won the bronze award - was delighted with the honours.

He said: "It's always great to be nominated in the annual awards as they are judged by radio professionals and representatives from the NHS and show we are doing what we should be doing."

"The bronze award was in a category that we've never been nominated in before for a programme that was 10 years in the making."

"The top five in 'station of the year' was our best result since 2010 for a year with a record number of requests -

Hospital Radio Basingstoke collect their award at the ceremony in Bolton and request number 100,000 coming soon.

"We achieved five nominations in total with a record number of entries into the competition as a whole."

Hospital Radio Basingstoke is also looking to expand its team and is looking for new volunteers to present shows, visit wards and fundraise.

Neil added: "Our plans for this year focus on recruitment over the next few months."

"We are always on the lookout for new volunteers to join the team - people who would like to present a show, but also understand that this involves visiting the wards and collecting requests along with fundraising and helping with other jobs."

"We are also looking for ward visitors who would be able to visit patients during the day or early evening and collect requests for our shows."

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Unexpected costs? Pension doesn't go far enough? Consider a Lifetime Mortgage.

Unexpected costs happen to all of us: new boilers, car problems, increased bills and required refurbishments to name a few. When you're young and employed it can be difficult to meet these costs, but as we age the availability to borrow reduces and reliance on pensions can mean financial difficulty.

For homeowners over 55, mortgage options have become significantly limited but there are products available. Lifetime Mortgages can help release the equity stored in the property for daily living costs or that urgently needed new kitchen, as well as assisting customers trapped in 'Interest Only' mortgages or nearing the end of the mortgage term with no standard options available.

"Our customers don't always have the option to downsize, and the cost of moving can mean that they feel trapped and financially suffocated." says Michael Usher, founder and owner of Michael Usher Mortgage Services. "Our Lifetime Mortgage Advice service helps potential applicants to identify whether they are suited for a Lifetime Mortgage and make sure they understand everything involved."

Lifetime Mortgages help people who want to remain in their homes without the hassle or complications that arise from moving house or downsizing.

Equity is accessed from the property and repaid when the house is sold. Lenders offering these products include Aviva, Legal & General, LV and Just Retirement.

With several qualified and experienced Lifetime Mortgage Advisers, Michael Usher Mortgage Services, based at the end of the one way system, is open Monday to Friday (Saturday by appointment only). Established in 2001, Michael leads a team of 25 staff offering Mortgage Advice, Will Writing & Estate Planning and Sales & Lettings Management.

"From the beginning I wanted to create a business that survived on its reputation and I think we're doing that. Most of our customers are returning or referred to us and our reviews across Check a Professional and Trustpilot show our customers feel they're working with a company that has a real passion for helping their customers."

If you're interested in knowing more about Lifetime Mortgages or have any other Mortgage questions, contact Sean Usher or Joe Capon on 01256 637000 or drop into the office at 35a Winchester Street, Basingstoke, RG21 7EE.

Young musicians 'spellbinding'

By Josh Cox

SOME of the country's most talented young musicians will put on a "spell-binding" performance of classics at The Anvil on Sunday.

The show marks the debut of a newly-created under-13 section by the National Children's Orchestras of Great Britain (NCO).

In an inspirational afternoon of musicianship, the youngsters will perform their Spring Concert – a skilled delivery of classical concert repertoire, with a fresh approach.

The young musicians will spend just eight days rehearsing together at Port Regis School, in Dorset, before their performance in Basingstoke.

As well as intensive training, the musicians will also have time off to relax with friends and will be able to take part in fun recreational activities organised by the trained team of pastoral care staff.

During the week the NCO members will be supported by conductor Peter Stark.

He said: "I am relishing the prospect of working with the under-13s this Easter. The programme is terrific – varied, entertaining and challenging in equal measure.

"Everybody should come and hear these astonishing children. It is an opportunity not to be squandered!"

Percussionist Gus Cox, aged 13, said: "The concerts are a superb climax to our week of rehearsals.

"I really enjoy being part of the NCO and I am so proud to play with an orchestra that sounds so good!"

The young musicians are ready to deliver a spell-binding programme of music that includes: Wagner – Prelude to Act 1 from Die Meistersinger von Nurnberg; Butterworth – A Shropshire Lad; Tchaikovsky – Capriccio Italien; Williams – Harry Potter Symphonic Suite; Grieg – Movements from Holberg Suite; and Curtis – Paths to Urbino.

Founded in 1978, the NCO has performed in some of the world's most prestigious venues and locations, including the Royal Albert Hall in London and the Forbidden City Concert Hall in Beijing.

The performances by the young musicians are renowned for their intensity, vivacity and commitment – and, above all, their professionalism.

The Basingstoke concert starts at 3pm.

Group discounts are available.

Ticket prices, including a £2 booking fee, range from £5 (child ticket) up to £24 (top price adult ticket).

Falkners Friday

MUSIC: Lost Roberts play the Falkners Arms in Fleet on Friday. Join the blues band for a brilliant night of fun, featuring some guest performances.

The Lost Roberts have toured the UK with a number of high profile artists, including Eric Clapton. They are a band not to be missed.

The free show starts at 9pm.

Bond, James Bond

MUSIC: Goldeneye return to play one of Hampshire's finest social venues, the Wellington Social Club, Basingstoke, on Saturday.

Formed in 2004 as a James Bond theme covers project, the pair evolved and made their live debut in April 2006. The band have been performing hit songs from the last 50 years ever since.

There may be a ticket price for non members. The gig starts at 8.45pm.

Classical outing

MUSIC: The Philharmonia Orchestra will be performing Brahms, Tchaikovsky, and Dvořák at The Anvil on Friday from 7.45pm.

The evening, which covers a wide range of classical and contemporary pieces, features Sergey Khachatryan.

Pair push the boundaries of folk

By Josh Cox

DYNAMIC and exhilarating duo Will Pound and Eddy Jay are bringing their unique form of folk to The Forge next Thursday.

The pair of master musicians read each other instinctively.

This amazing creative partnership opens a path to new folk sounds with nothing more than a harmonica and an accordion.

Together they sound like one instrument.

Will is one of the finest harmonica players of his generation whose innovative style pushes the boundaries of his instrument and the folk genre.

Three times nominated for BBC Radio 2 Folk Musician Of The Year, he has held the accolades of FATEA Instrumentalist of the Year (2013, 2014) and Spiral Earth Magazine Musician Of The Year (2015).

Eddy is a real master of the accordion with the ability to turn it into an orchestra at his fingertips.

He was a key player in the arrangement of the hit stage musical version of Noel Coward's Brief Encounter' (Kneehigh Theatre).

He has devised his own version of Prokofiev's classic Peter and the Wolf, plus a show celebrating Edith Piaf that has toured the UK and beyond.

Will and Eddy's new 11-track album, Ignite, is attracting much attention in the media.

It's being described as 'A musical exaltation' by BBC Radio 3 and 'Staggeringly brilliant' by Folk Radio.

It's guaranteed to brighten your day thanks to the innovative mixture of both musicians.

We live in an age where there is so much new music it can be hard to tell what is truly unique.

However, the powerful combination of Pound and Jay is just that – unique.

It is something that needs to be heard and is often described as a work of art.

The show starts at 7.45pm.

Tickets for a wonderful night of Will Pound and Eddy Jay are priced at £16.50.

Concession, under-16 and full-time student tickets are priced at £14.50. This price includes a £2 booking fee.

Call the Anvil Arts box office on 01256 844244, or book online at anvilarts.org.uk.

Dribbling dragon

THEATRE: Don't Dribble on the Dragon is a family play at the Haymarket on Tuesday.

The magical and heart warming show is packed with lots of laughs, love and great singalong songs.

Tickets are priced at £12, which includes a £2 booking fee.

The fun starts at 2.30pm

Laughs at the Lion

COMEDY: A night of laughter can be enjoyed at the Red Lion in Basingstoke next Thursday.

Rob Rouse and three other top comedians will be delivering their not-to-be-missed performances.

Rouse has appeared on TV shows such as Celebrity Juice and The Friday Night Project.

Doors open from 7.30pm and tickets are £15.

Hello and goodbye!

MUSIC: The world's most famous Beatles tribute band continue to bolster their reputation at the The Anvil on Tuesday.

The Bootleg Beatles trace the mop-tops' journey through the '60s, paying careful attention to every detail from costumes to Scouse banter.

The gig starts at 7.30pm.

Kia Optima Sportswagon 1.7 CRDi 3 ISG

A sportswagon with real swagger

By Tony Yates

IF you are looking for a decent estate car that has everything thrown in for a decent price – then look no further than the Optima Sportswagon.

What Kia have done here is made the perfect estate car that has a minimum of 552 litres of cargo space – plus the added option of dropping the rear seats to increase this to 1,686 litres. This also gives Kia the perfect opportunity to break into that important D-segment where they hope the Optima Sportswagon will grab a slice of the business and fleet sales market.

Power and Efficiency

The version I currently have on test is powered by a 1.7 litre turbocharged diesel engine with 139bhp and 340 lb/ft of torque which makes the Optima move along at a decent pace considering its size. Fuel economy figures are also good and you can expect to achieve around 60.0mpg (combined) plus a decent top speed of 124mph.

On the road

The Optima feels pretty good on our roads – and there are no dramas to talk about here because its well balanced and settled even on some of our most demanding roads – you'll have less to worry about if you decide to start planting the Optima into the corners.

I know I have said this before – but the Kia engineers really do put a lot of effort into making their cars handle well and you can feel that in the way the Optima tells you exactly what's going on beneath you – while Kia's onboard safety features do their job by keeping everything present and correct even in the event that you do go and get it all a bit wrong.

Safety and Technology

Trim levels inside the Optima don't feel as good as they do inside the Sportage – but this is a load lugger and a car that is able to accommodate a large family and pretty much everything you can throw at it – so when you think about it, the interior is actually well thought out with modern hard wearing materials that will be very good at resisting wear for many years.

With technology now being one of the most important factors most people look for when buying a new car – the Optima needed to offer a lot of toys for not much money. Well, I can happily report that the Optima does not fall short here – and comes with a whole array of features such as front & rear parking sensors, auto-dimming rear-view mirror, 8" Touchscreen Satellite Navigation, dual automatic air conditioning with an automatic windscreen de-fog system, 18" alloy wheels, LED front fogs, LED rear lights, Blind Spot Detection, ABD with EBD, Lane-Keep Assist and speed limit information, Rear Cross Traffic Alert and twin side (front) curtain airbags among many others.

To sum up

Go out and see for yourself what the Optima Sportswagon has to offer. Standard price (from) £24,495 as tested.

Licensing Agency

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.

That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Rob Collard in action

Strong start to season for Collard

ROB Collard began his British Touring Car Championship season with a podium during the opening races at Brands Hatch on Sunday.

The Hook-based racer surged up the grid to finish second in race two, adding to his solid seventh and sixth-place results in races one and three respectively.

It was an impressive day of racing from Collard, who made his way up the order having qualified a lowly 15th for race one on Saturday.

The 48-year-old was supremely quick in race two to get on to the podium, before a steady performance with the extra ballast earned him more points in race three.

"If you'd told me at the start of the weekend that I'd finish seventh, second and sixth, I'd have taken it," said Collard.

"Race two was brilliant because every time I kept asking for a little bit more from the car, it gave me more and I was able to make some moves I was pretty proud of.

"I was faster than the cars around me at the end and I'm convinced I could have won if the race had just been a couple of laps longer."

The opening races have left Collard fifth in the standings on 36 points, with three-time champion Gordon Shedden at the top of the table on 48.

Sport Bites

Biggest victory

RUGBY: Basingstoke RFC enjoyed a massive 71-0 win away at United Services Portsmouth on Saturday.

It was their biggest win of the season and means they will finish in the top five of the London 3 South West table.

They have 66 points with one game remaining. They play host to league champions Farnham this Saturday afternoon.

Coach honour

ICE HOCKEY: Basingstoke Bison's director of hockey Doug Sheppard has been named coach of the year.

He picked up the title at the Energise Me Awards last Thursday during a ceremony celebrating sporting success in Hampshire and the Isle of Wight in 2016.

Bison had a year to remember, taking their first league title since 1993. Sheppard has led the Herd to a top three finish every season since 2012.

He was also recognised for his work in creating the Bison development path, giving junior players the chance to progress to the senior side.

Double defeat

FOOTBALL: Whitchurch United suffered a narrow defeat away at Alresford Town on Saturday.

It comes after they were thrashed 4-1 at home by Bemerton Heath Harlequins in their match last Wednesday night.

They are 20th in the Wessex Premier Division with three games remaining and are next in action against Moneyfields this Saturday.

Calleva draw

FOOTBALL: Tadley Calleva had to settle for a 1-1 draw against Folland Sports on Saturday afternoon.

The point leaves Tadley eighth in the Wessex Division One standings on 64 points, but within two of Ringwood Town in sixth.

They make the trip to Christchurch for their next match this weekend.

Rose all set for Masters

JUSTIN Rose will be eyeing up his first Masters title as he begins his 2017 campaign around the greens of Augusta today.

The North Hampshire golfer tees off at 3.56pm BST for his first round alongside fellow major winner Jason Day and American Brandt Snedeker, before beginning round two tomorrow at 7.03pm.

Justin Rose

He comes into the tournament off the back of a tied 15th finish at the Shell Houston Open last weekend, ending up on seven under par.

Rounds of 67, 71, 73 and 70 earned Rose a respectable finishing position in preparation for this weekend's action, although he was 13 shots behind overall winner Russell Henley.

The 36-year-old has enjoyed top 10 finishes in his last two Masters appearances, including finishing tied second in 2015.

A poor second round 77 hindered Rose's chances last year, as he ended the four days on one over par, six shots off England's Danny Willett who took the title.

Artful Artwell shows his class with a brace

By Matthew Brown

A BRACE from Ashleigh Artwell helped Basingstoke see off Chesham 3-2 at the Camrose on Saturday.

The Dragons made it two from two following on from their 1-0 away victory over St Ives last time out.

Artwell was instrumental in the hosts' strong start to the game, his quick and strong running a constant threat to the Chesham defence.

Basingstoke continued to dominate with chances continuing to fall to them.

Terrance van Cooten was next to come close, shooting just off target before Michael Atkinson spurned two chances, shooting over from the edge of the box before heading narrowly wide from a van Cooten cross.

Chesham tested Alex Tokarczyk through Sam Youngs whose low volley was parried by the 'keeper.

Ten minutes before half time Basingstoke took the lead.

A neat exchange between Artwell and Redford put the winger through on goal and he coolly stroked the ball under Chesham goalkeeper Richard Hayward.

In the second half, Basingstoke further pressed home their advantage with two quickfire goals. Redford scored the first after collecting the ball on the right side of the area and turning to shoot low past Hayward.

Artwell then score his second to put Basingstoke three goals to the good after twisting away from Crilley to fire into the bottom corner from 25 yards.

The home side were now cruising, but with 15 minutes to go Chesham sneaked a goal back.

Youngs, who had been the most potent for the Generals, turned on to his left foot to unleash a long range effort that squeezed through the hands of Tokarczyk.

The fingernails of the home fans were really being chewed six minutes later when Curtis Ujah further reduced the deficit for Chesham.

The defender rose the highest to nod home a looping header following a quickly taken corner that caught Basingstoke out.

A tense final 10 minutes ensued but Basingstoke held on and were unfortunate not to score again when Aaron Jarvis was dragged down when running through on goal.

The Dragons will be hoping to make it three from three when they visit Redditch this Saturday.

It's promotion as champions retain the title

HARTLEY Wintney have been crowned Combined Counties Premier League champions for a second successive season.

Their 0-0 draw away to Chertsey Town secured the single point they needed to take the title with five games to spare.

The Row have been dominant all season, winning 31 of their 39 games, drawing five and losing just three to accumulate 98 points, 21 ahead of nearest rivals Westfield.

After missing out on promotion last year despite winning the title, this time Hartley Wintney will move up into the Southern Football League.

Bison reach play-off finals

By Matthew Brown

BASINGSTOKE Bison rounded off a successful play-off group stage, finishing top of Group B and qualifying for finals weekend in Coventry following back-to-back victories at the weekend.

A 7-3 away victory over Swindon Wildcats on Saturday was followed on Sunday with a tight win over Milton Keynes Lightning at the Basingstoke Arena.

Joe Miller was the standout performer for Bison with an assist and three goals over the two games.

Bison made the trip to Swindon in the Planet Ice Derby and took an early lead with Tomas Karpov opening the scoring after six minutes.

It was 2-0 after the Wildcats had killed their first penalty and shortly after on 14.21, Aaron Connolly put Bison further ahead.

The first period ended 1-2 after Maxim Birbraer responded for the hosts.

Bison continued to dominate after the break with two goals in quick succession from Vanya Atonov and Derek Roehl.

Antonov scored on 30.52, finishing after good work from Rene Jarolin and Joe Miller with Roehl adding a fourth on 33.32.

Ciaran Long made it 5-1 after 49.03 before Miller opened his account for the weekend with 53.29 on the clock.

Swindon responded through Tomas Malasinski on 54.08 but Karpov scored his second of the night on 57.09.

With just four seconds remaining,

Swindon scored through Adam Finlinson to make the final score 3-7.

The following day, Bison were on home ice against Milton Keynes Lightning in a pulsating encounter.

The game started at a frenetic pace but neither side could take the lead although Lightning were celebrating briefly after an Antii Hollier shot bulged the net but was ruled out after hitting the outside of the twine.

Both sides continued to ramp up the pressure and Lightning took the lead after 17.07 through Blaz Emersic.

After the break, the game continued at a frantic pace and Bison got their reward, levelling on 25.57 after man of the weekend Joe Miller had fired in after good work from Antonov.

Just two minutes later, Bison took the lead through Miller again on 27.45.

Bison continued to press home their advantage with Joe Rand making it 3-1 on 31.38.

Both teams continued to attack and the Lightning hit back through Holli but Bison held on and will go forward to finals weekend in Coventry.
